shippers, consignees and domestic users besides CONCOR officials.

Mr Anil K. Gupta, Chairman and Managing Directors of CONCOR, presided over the function, where awards in various categories were given out by senior CONCOR officials, including Mr Yash Vardhan, Director of International Marketing and Operations.

Mr Vardhan appreciated the achievements while announcing the awards.

Both the JLFF awards were received by Mr Manojan K. C. on behalf of the company.

Talking about the achievement, Mr Vijay Madhavan, Managing Director of JLFF, acknowledged the support of a few renowned shipping lines, namely, APL, MOL, MSC, NYK, UASC and PERMA

"We have achieved cargo handling landmark at Malanpur for performance, and volume of clearances at Malanpur is one of the best amongst smaller ICDs in the NCR and we are under reinvention to develop more and more where no single office of shipping lines is in existence," he said.

Mr Madhavan said that off and on, international slumps are most common, influenced not only by the merchandise mechanism but also by government policies and diplomatic relations.

Asked about the good performance in imports, Mr Madhavan said despite a decline in overall imports, JLFF's efforts in providing the best services had resulted in the award-winning performance.

JLFF and its management conveyed their thanks and gratitude to all those engaged in foreign trade and also to the officials and staff members of CONCOR and the Customs department for extending their cooperation.
